

CONNECTING MEMORIES

Keynote Lecture:

‘Empirically Grounded Theories, or Prescriptions for How to Remember? On the Idealism of Memory Studies.’

Professor Bill Niven
Nottingham Trent University

Friday, 6thth March 2020 at 6pm
Room G.06
50 George Square, Edinburgh

Professor Bill Niven has published widely on twentieth-century German history, not least exploring the ways in which West and East Germany viewed the history of the Third Reich.

Connecting Memories is a collaborative interdisciplinary research initiative opening up a space for previously unconnected scholars working on memory to interact and share their perspectives on what memory means in the context of their research.

For more information and for updates, please visit our website: <http://www.connectingmemories.org/>
You can also follow us on Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/connectingmemories>
Feel free to get in touch by email: info@connectingmemories.org